

Passionate Senior PHP Developer

Medwing is a group of people creating thrilling online retail experiences for our customers and the best sales results for our manufacturer partners. Founded in 2002, and named one of the Fastest Growing Private Companies in America by Inc. 500 by 2007, Medwing now operates over 30 Brand Focused Websites from our headquarters in Austin, Texas.

Medwing is currently seeking a Senior PHP Developer to join our team of fun professionals!

Thanks to your lightning-fast, top quality coding capabilities, Medwing's internal systems become world class. Your passion for helping team members accomplish more with less effort results in huge productivity gains. You tackle new projects with gusto – better and faster than anyone imagines. You also refine our existing systems – making them more effective, more efficient, incredibly scalable, and totally stable. Your disciplined efforts mean that all our code is clean, easy to read, and amazingly well documented. With your strong interpersonal skills, you uncover each team member's system requirements while making the process fun for everyone. And your insights on how these systems help us build a great company drive your ability to prioritize, multi-task, and deliver ahead of schedule. In short, you help innovate our processes and make us the best online retailer in the world!
